

Catherine Weber

Demonstration in Abstract Encaustic Painting

Sunday, April 2, 2017

2:00–4:00pm

Catherine Weber's experience as a seamstress, sewing her own clothing since she was 6, has instilled in her a love of color, texture, and construction. Her work is a departure from the strict order and precision required to make garments, which she says is a rebellion that is freeing. She works with encaustic medium and paint, photography, silk, Japanese papers, and objects from nature to make harmony of the many colors and textures. She says that what began as chaos finds order in the end.

Catherine has studied many mediums and says that she continues to be a voracious learner. She is a member of New England Wax, International Encaustic Artists, and the Women's Caucus of Art, as well as, the president and founder of a digital marketing firm, Weber Media Partners in Southborough, Massachusetts.

Catherine holds a BA in Communications from Emerson College and an MA in Critical and Creative Thinking from the University of Massachusetts Boston. Her studio is located in Southborough, Massachusetts.

*All are invited to the free demonstration sponsored by the Lexington Arts and Crafts Society Painters Guild, Plummer Studio, Second Floor,
130 Waltham Street, Lexington, MA 02421*